FOUR Short street boys, ranging anywhere from 10 to 14 years of age, were in the Police Court Saturday afternoon on a peculiar charge. They were found down on the grade draining old empty beer kegs of their contents and in this manner got some old stale beer. It is a most barbarous practice, and the little fellows, in their ignorance, had no idea of the danger of it. Judge Wadsworth gave them some excellent fatherly advice, and warned them that if they appeared in Court again Officer Stockdale would give them a whipping. The Judge told them he would establish a whipping post, and the next time any one of them were brought into Court he would endeavor to prove its usefulness.

Death of Oscar C. Beckett.

Oscar C. Beckett, eldest child of Mrs. Mary A. Beckett, died at his mother's home on Fourth street yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, aged 35 years.

Mr. Beckett was a well known cigar maker and while he has been sick more or less for the past two months he had only been confined to his bed for four days and his death was a sad blow to the family.

The immediate cause of his death was a complication of diseases. The funeral, which will take place from his late home at 2 o'clock this afternoon, will be conducted by Rev. R. G. Patrick.

THERE'LL BE A CONTEST.

The Mayor's Paper Electing City Printer at Lexington.

The new charter, which is now ready for Governor Brown's signature, is to become a law governing the cities of Newport, Covington and Lexington, has caused some of the Lexington politicians to get their heads together.

At a meeting of the General Council a caucus was held and a City Printer elected.

It was the intention of the members to keep the election a secret, so there would be but one applicant for the office, but the other papers heard of the scheme and sent in bids, guaranteeing circulation four times that of the present City Printer and reducing the price to one-half.

Mayor Duncan's paper was chosen, however, by a large majority.

The new charter requires the Mayor to give the city printing to the paper with the largest general circulation.

Many claim the scheme illegal, and there is apt to be trouble over the matter if the new charter is not vetoed.

THE A. P. A. IN IOWA.

No Ex-Priests to Be Hereafter Employed Unless Accredited.

The State Council of the American Protective Association has just closed its session at Keokuk, Iowa.

In his annual address President Jackson said:

We claim, in our principles, that we attack no religion and make no warfare on the religious tenets of the Roman Catholic Church, and yet we hear ex-Priests abuse all of the peculiar observances of this church and vilify and make fun of its observances.

We thereby subject ourselves and bring reproach upon the Order and its principles.

The Council unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the plan of the President and hereafter no ex-Priests will be employed unless properly accredited by the President.

It may, some of these days, dawn on our good Catholic friends that the A. P. A. is not opposed to their religion; and that when it comes to the right of a Catholic to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, the A. P. A. will defend that right to the bitter end. This is a free country, and all its citizens are entitled to free speech and freedom of thought and they must have these things.

There is no doubt but what a vast amount of trouble has been caused by ill-timed remarks and severe criticisms of some anti-Catholic lecturers; but mowing the speaker, or threatening to mow him, or stoning the lecture-hall, or arresting the speaker, or trumping-up charges, these are not the ways to stop the thing. Let the speakers alone. If they are telling lies about Catholics, it will hurt them and their cause far worse than it will hurt the Catholics. Take the advice of Archbishop Ireland and "keep cool."

Don't fail to see O'Brien's Comedians at the Opera-house tonight.
